

You and Me

It's OK

For us to be

Two different people

You and me.

In what we like

To do or see

We each make life interesting

You and me.

In work or play

In the mountains or at sea

There is much to enjoy

For you and me.

Perhaps in worship

We do not agree

But God love us

You and me.

We see someone different
And might desire to flee
But each is needed
For you and me.

To melt together
Even when we disagree
Could be the key
For you and me.

So let's learn from each other
So we can be
Whom God intended
That's you and me!

Janie Corbitt©

2006